Address for Machine Sales and New Collaborations

ITM 2024 Exhibition has once again reinforced its leading position in the sector with the wide range of opportunities offered to its visitors and exhibitors. The companies participating in the exhibition both strengthened their existing business relations and created new business opportunities.

From the first day of the exhibition, the exhibitors were flooded with visitors, started machine sales and signed important collaborations. This dynamic environment created a great vitality not only for the exhibitors but also for the textile machinery industry, which has been experiencing a pause since September 2022. During the 5-day exhibition, the machinery sales and collaborations made during the exhibition created a total business volume of more than 1.5 billion euros. This enormous trade volume played an important role in accelerating the sector and the economy.
